Pure Copper Coil

100% Copper Core Coil is the regulators core components, copper column surface smoothly like a mirror, much less carbon brush on its surface.

Control System

Independently research and developed control system, available for self bring control board, imported elements,
to ensure high stability & full protections.

LED Display

Humanized design, easy to operate, all is clear on the operation panel, save your time to study the duty.

Our Stabilizer guards your refrigerator and other household devices from voltage fluctuations thus preventing electrical damage. This stabilizer has a high voltage cut-off protection and a built-in thermal overload protection system. It cuts off power supply to connected equipment in case of component failure. The stabilizer is manufactured from high quality components, quality checked at all stages, and is equipped with the latest technology. In addition, it comes with advanced features to deliver superior performances.
